

CROW (Peter Vanne)

You can drink my water if I can use your land
You can help me find my way if I can hold your hand
We can walk together and climb upon a hill look at the horizon see the world is standing still

CHORUS

The greatest treasures are the ones we get for free
The deeper that we dig for them the more they're meant to be
The greatest lessons are the ones we couldn't see
The further that we go for them the more they'll set us free

You can go into a lonely place afraid you won't be found
Crawl under a steady rock stay six feet under ground Your pills can keep you safe and warm and comfort you until you have to find yourself again and walk right up that hill

CHORUS

I've looked into a bottle for a message I could send
And I've never judged another man an enemy or a friend
Sometimes we choose a crooked road so we can lose our way
It's only when your on your knees you find out you can pray
